The Managing Director – JOLU GROUP
Mrs. Lucy Ndung'u
During our Mega Company Launch
On 23rd Aug, 2025
Nairobi, Kenya

Good morning, ladies and gentlemen, distinguished guests, and members of the fourth estate — karibuni sana.

Today, we are not just launching a company; we are unveiling a vision that speaks to possibility, growth, and shared prosperity. It is my great honor to welcome each of you to this special occasion — the official launch of Jolu Group here at Lowland Estate, Thome, Nairobi.

We are deeply honored by your presence — our esteemed clients, partners, bankers, investors, suppliers, local leaders, friends, and of course, our family members. Your support has been instrumental, and having you here today gives this moment its true meaning.

The journey to this day has been one of passion, persistence, and above all, partnership. And as we stand here together, we are reminded that no business grows in isolation. It takes people. It takes trust. And it takes relationships like the ones we share with you.

Allow me also to extend heartfelt appreciation to our organising team, whose tireless efforts have brought us here. From the planning committee, to logistics, to every member of staff — asanteni sana. You embody the spirit of Jolu Group.

As Managing Director, my message today is simple: you are most welcome. Please enjoy the day, connect with each other, and celebrate this new chapter with us.

And now, it is my privilege to introduce someone whose vision and determination have made today possible. A leader with unwavering commitment, who began his career as an accountant but had the courage to dream bigger, to build, and to inspire. Ladies and gentlemen, please join me in welcoming our CEO — Mr. John Ndung'u.
